

COR10190 Agility Package 19

The Rope Parkour with steel posts attracts children hugely with its many fun, bouncy challenges. These fun elements is the motivation that gets children wanting to try out climbing over and over again. The Rope Parcour is the trainer of agility, balance and coordination. Working your way through the net demands concentration and adeptness. The climbing, swaying and bouncing trains the major muscle groups as well as important motor skills. The swinging seesaw and the three-dimensional slalom net also allow children to cooperate and take a break together, which benefits their socializing skills.
