

The Fuji is a gigantic play attraction. With its vast and varied possibilities, it makes children want to play, again and again. The wide variety of play activities spanning tall climbing ladders, sturdy play shells, climbing walls, twisted nets, bouncy ropes ensures layered play that appeals to all levels of users. It develops not merely muscles, but also fundamental motor skills such as cross-coordination, spatial awareness and balance. These motor skills are important for life skills like managing traffic securely. The tall platform is a tummy tickling reward, as are the winding, broad slide and the banister bars. Under the platform there are ample meeting opportunities with swaying play shells. Its impressive appearance aside, the Fuji has meeting points and activities for all, thanks to its transparency in design.
